“ Dear Brother, The anniversary of your day slipped right by this year and my mind wasn't even thinking straight. I almost lost Kerry on August the 6th in an accident. I didn't have enough sense to know what day it was because the days just run together. I just want you to know that I miss you as much today as the day that you left us. The hurt never goes away but the great memories of you don't either. I hope your enjoying your new home in heaven and I look forward to the day that I can see you again and give you a great big hug! I love you with everything inside me and I will always think of you on a day to day basis. I have your picture on my desk at work and I look at it often I also have every letter you've ever wrote me. I sat down and read a few one day but I was unable to read them all. The hurt is too real! Keep smiling that wonderful smile brother and I pray that you always look over me,Kerry,and Lyndsey. Love you brother!

“ Dear Brother,
Today has been a year since you left us! My heart is breaking today just likes it has been breaking every since you left us. The hurt doesnt go away and the memories of you will never be forgotten. We had such happy days together! Remember when we were young and I use to follow you across the tracks when you were headed to shoot pool at corner pocket? You would take my dollar and run me all the way back home, lol I dont think we ever had an argument that I can remember. We use to even wear the same size jeans and of course they were bell bottoms back in the day and we would always get them caught in our bicycle chain, lol. I will never forget the day the woodpecker pecked you on the head and it bled and bled, lol we laughed so hard! I wish I was half the person that you were! You had happiness and wore a smile no matter what life threw at you. I thank God that I got to talk to you before he decided to take you home. I will always miss our talk and our letters! See you later my dear brother! Love always and forever, your sis Cindy.

“ I am so sorry to all the family. He was a good person, always laughing, joking, and just cutting up with you. Today is my birthday and I do not get to hear him say Happy Birthday Darling!! It makes my heart so sad that he had to go be with Jesus, but I know he is in a much better place. He was a dad to me for many many years and I am going to miss you everyday.. I will never forget you with the many memories that we have together. RIP Carl I love you and I will see you again someday.
