“ *We're living in a world, stars and dust
Between heaven and all that surrounds us
We're travellers here, spirits passing through
And the love we give, is all that will endure
Just like a rose after the rain
Something beautiful remains
Tears will leave no stains
Time will ease the pain
For every life that fades

“ Carolyn was very special to our family for many years. I was happy to have visited with her recently and talked with her several times in the last few weeks. She worked very hard all her life, even with the medical problems she has had to deal with in recent years. She never gave up. She was an inspiration to many.
