“Dewey was the oldest sibling of my only sister Ruth Burton. I have been praying for him since I found out he was dealing with cancer. Death is something that we all dread to face but we must remember that God is still in control and He uses death as an eternal healer for us even when we don't always understand. Now he can enjoy life after death with Ruth, Donna and Deanna. I loved you just wish I had spent more time together while you were here. Uncle C.B.
