“ Dorothy, you were my first friend, my best childhood friend, my smart friend. We went to school, church and did everything together until I moved away. Though miles apart, we have shared our life stories, the good and the not-so-good. I suspect you didn't tell me everything about your health when we spoke. I also believe you never recovered from the loss of Dorian, compounded with the eventual illness and loss of Chris, your beloved sons. No doubt it was your strong faith that sustained you. We remained connected for over 60 years, for which I am grateful , I laugh at the thought that you were one of the few who still called me by my childhood nickname. I will forever miss you. Rest in peace dear friend, we will meet again. Love, O
