“ frankie, you were the definition of a "true blue friend" to us! daily for some years we very nonchalantly said "frankie's here", never thought about how it would be not too. you will be in our hearts until we meet again one day, friend!

“ It's crazy how life happens & years go by & families become distant. I hope you know that no matter how long we went without seeing the other, you are & always will be my family. Years go by & many things change. But, the one thing that will always remain the same , is that you are my family & you always will be & my love for you will always be. Life seems so unfair @ times & I often catch myself asking God "why". But, if I have learned nothing else in this life, I do know that it is all in God's plan & he must have needed you more. I'm so grateful to have called you family & I'm so grateful that you are no longer suffering. I hope you knew that I loved you dearly. I cant wait til we all can be together again someday. I cant wait to see my Mama smiling again & calling me on home. Pawpaw Homer will be so happy if we all make it to heaven. I'll get to meet Maw Katie & Maw Suzie. I can only imagine.....
