“ As a teen, James was my friend. We rode the school bus together and had many laughs. He had a wonderful sense of humor, as did his brother John. I ran into James a few months ago walking down Front street in Sikeston. I noticed his blue jacket and told him I really liked it. I had no idea who he was but he started chatting with me. He mentioned that he was the last of his family. When I asked if he was from around Sikeston, he said he was. It was then I realized it was my old friend from school. He started my day with a smile. That is how I will always remember him - his wonderful sense of humor.
