“ Cuz, your gone but we've got the memories of times past like that time when you walked me home when I was little but you were the one that told me those stories about the haunted places beside the road from your house to the tribal offices and giving me 50 cents here and there at school for a drink and that time I needed a loan once and you didn't charge me interest and told me not to tell the other cousins because they might expect the same gonna miss you, cuz.
