“ It's never easy to lose a child and your grandchild. He was an awesome boy, strong and determined. He will always be in his family's heart. The love he has for his family and his family's love for him will never die. He gets to take that love with him, with the lord waiting for him to greet him in heaven. You and your family will see him again one day in spirit—my prayers to you, June, and his parents and family members. My deepest condolences!

“ Cami and family, I am so sorry. It is not natural to say goodbye so you will feel every emotion imaginable but please know that he was a strong young man. He was a warrior and the example he showed will be remembered. May the Creator, the Way Maker of life give you peace and strength until he will bring him back to a new Earth. And you all can be together again.
